

Residential Sales Averages

Average prices are calculated in registration counties because the administration of the Land and Sasine Registers is organised along the local authority geographical boundaries that existed prior to 1975. It is not possible, at the moment, to produce a report that aligns with the current unitary local authority boundaries. Further development to this report including different analysis models will be market led and notified to customers once implemented. Back issues of these reports, from November 2000, can be purchased on request. Please contact Heather Thomson for more details.
